Summer Internship Opportunities

Applicants are eligible for four Summer 2018 Wilberforce internships. There is one application for both the Conference and the internships. A stipend will be provided as well as up to four days leave of absence with supervisor approval. The start date is May 29th and will go to at least August 3, 2018. There will be days when we ask you as a group to tour the city and reflect on your experiences. The internship's scope of tasks fall into two main categories:

Advocacy Working to research current legislative areas of interest, sitting in on hearings and public meetings on Capitol Hill, working on collecting and arranging data, co-developing advocacy tools that will be used in Congress, working with our Government Affairs Director on various items, and other duties

Policy and Capacity Building Working to research current policy issues, following up on the latest news, doing research and data collection on religious freedom, working with our Policy Relations Director on various items, Alliance/Grassroots partner mobilization, supporting internal organizational capacity building, day-to-day operations, and other duties.

Because you can apply to both the Conference and the internship at the same time, we will only require one additional component for your internship application – a writing sample. This should demonstrate your ability to write thoughtfully, concisely, and professionally. It does not need to focus on religious freedom.
